++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Morning rain clearing eastwards by early afternoon on Saturday.

Today:
Cloudy, dry start before turning wet and breezy on Saturday morning, as a band of rain, perhaps briefly heavy, moves eastwards before clearing to drier, brighter conditions by early afternoon, with some sunshine. Isolated showers following to some western areas. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
Mostly fine on Saturday night with long clear spells once any showers die out. Fog may cover some higher ground later in the night, as cloud increases with freshening winds. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Sunday:
Cloud soon thickening with strong winds bringing a band of rain across the region on Sunday morning. Brighter with a few showers following, perhaps turning rather heavy across western areas. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Monday bright and showery with brisk winds decreasing. Light winds on Tuesday with sunshine and chance of a shower in west. Wednesday bright with a few coastal showers. Feeling colder.
